Finals football has arrived, and the Magpies will open the 2023 final series in a Qualifying Final against Melbourne on Thursday night. Both teams come into the first week of finals after impressive wins a fortnight ago in Round 24. Collingwood destroyed Essendon and are likely to have a number of key players return for Thursday's game. Skipper Darcy Moore, defender Nathan Murphy are Likely to play with star midfielder Nick Daicos, an outside chance to return.

If Moore and Murphy return, it will be two very big inclusions to bolster Collingwood's back line. The Magpies won 18 of their 23 home and away matches. They were one of only a couple of teams to stay inside the eight, for the entire home and away season. The Magpies were able to withstand different amounts of pressure across many games this season. This often saw them behind on the scoreboard going into the last quarter. Often, the Magpies were able to control the final quarter and ground out a victory, to the amazement of their fans and commentators.

Collingwood are a naturally talented side with a mindset that allows them to believe they can win from any situation. This mindset comes from experience and a belief in their game style and continually executing their plans, despite what the scoreboard says. This is what makes a good team, a great finals team.

Melbourne finished fourth at the completion of round 24 and defeated Collingwood back on the Kings Birthday match in June. The scoreboard records that Melbourne only won by four points, however they did manage 26 scoring shots to Collingwood's 17. Melbourne kicked 8 goals 18 behinds to keep Collingwood in the match. The Demons couldn't finish in any other position as they faced Sydney a fortnight ago. The Demons welcomed back Bayley Fritsch that afternoon and he kicked a bag of 5 goals to put a smile on the faces of Demons fans.

FIRST QUALIFYING FINAL

Melbourne's VFL side Casey Scorpions left several AFL players on the sidelines during their Elimination final last weekend against Footscray. The Bulldogs won the match comfortably; however, the Demons are ensuring their players are prepared perfectly for this final.

The Demons have played some great football this year. They had a last kick 1 point win from Jake Melksham against Brisbane in round 18. A close loss to Port Adelaide at the Adelaide Oval confirms Melbourne's premiership credentials. The benefit of finishing fourth is a double chance, and a home final in either the second or third week depending on the result of this week's game.

Playing another Victorian team means they have a home ground benefit this week also. If the Demons can win, they won't leave the MCG for the remainder of the season. This is a huge incentive. Finals matches are made for champions. Christian Petracca, Clayton Oliver and Max Gawn are key pieces to Melbourne's success. Petracca is magnificent at exiting a stoppage from the front of the pack, which opens space in front of him, to then find a target.

Collingwood will start favourite as they have been the best and most consistent side all season. Melbourne will challenge them, but I suspect Collingwood's running power, particularly Bobby Hill, Jordan De Goey and Jack Ginnivan, will be too strong for the Demons.

It is a worthy opening final, for the winner, a week off and a home Preliminary Final. The loser gets a second chance, and possibly a date with Carlton in a knockout Semi Final. If this is the entrance, next week could be the main course.

MY TIP – Collingwood 1-7 points.

SECOND QUALIFYING FINAL

The True Test Starts Now

by
Liam Sheedy

It has been a positive week at Alberton with the news that Mitch Georgiades and Charlie Dixon have signed contract extensions but now the real excitement begins.

Finals football is here and Port Adelaide after securing a top four spot and the double chance head to the Gabba to tackle the Brisbane Lions on Saturday night.

The Lions are undefeated at home this year but like Port Adelaide have suffered finals heartbreak in recent years and both teams will be desperate to start their finals campaign in a winning fashion. Brisbane who finished the season in second position will rightfully start favourites and enter the contest on the back of four consecutive victories while the Power have won their last three matches.

Team selection this week will be fascinating. Todd Marshall should return after missing the last game of the regular season. Trent McKenzie is also available, and Skipper Tom Jonas may be the player to make way for his inclusion.

Scott Lycett also put his hand up for a return to AFL ranks after a positive performance for the Port Magpies in the Elimination Final loss to Central District.

Whether the Power pull any other surprises at the selection table we will have to wait and see. There is some discussion that Darcy Byrne-Jones could head back to defence, and we may see Orazio Fantasia come into selection calculations for his first taste of AFL Football since round three.

Both teams will prepare well and put plenty of work into the opposition. Charlie Cameron and Lachie Neale appear to be the major headaches for Ken Hinkley. Neale has a great record against Port and Charlie Cameron is always a handful and it will likely require a team effort to quell his influence.

Port Adelaide has done remarkably well to this point of the season, now is the time to produce when it truly counts in September.

Blues to End Their Finals Blues

by
Wilson McShane

After a much-deserved week off, the Swans will fly to Melbourne to play Carlton. The latter finished fifth one game clear of Sydney, while the former placed eighth. Despite the Blues ladder ascendancy, this match can undoubtedly be won by either side. The much-overused football cliché that there is no tomorrow, does not ring truer to these sides.

Although Carlton finished higher on the ladder, there was irrefutably a cloud cast over the club. A mirage of uncertainty. Is the coach competent? Will their list fail again? Why is Cripps in bad form?

Now as a football supporter, you can sit back and tell yourself you knew all along they would come good. But the reality is, there was very little confidence in this football club when things looked bleak and arguably rightfully so. However, this doubt has been silenced as the Blues won nine of their last ten matches. Prior to this Carlton had lost eight from nine games. This demonstrates Carlton has had an incredibly contrasting season.

Interestingly, their resurgence has come through their defence. In the past 10-weeks Carlton's average score against is 64.5. This is below the average score for. This was reiterated by former St Kilda legend, Leigh Montanna, who told Fox Footy he thinks the Blues are built for finals.

Similarly, their current form is consistent with that of the last 10 premiership sides as every premiership team in this period, has not lost more than one match in their last five leading into finals.

The Blues are also in a unique position in that their players have developed in maturity. In fact, Carlton's average age is 24.5. This is arguably the prime age for elite footballers. In combination, with the Blues star power through Curnow (Coleman medallist), Cripps (captain) and Weir, Carlton can arguably win the premiership.

Blues to End Their Finals Blues (cont'd)

by
Wilson McShane

However, their first and biggest challenge will be defeating Sydney this weekend. Unlike Carlton, Sydney was never able to generate the same momentum as last season. In fact, the Swans never won more than six consecutive games.

Conversely, injuries heavily inhibited Sydney's ability to climb higher on the ladder. Despite this, the Swans still claimed their rightful spot in the top eight.

Unfortunately for Carlton fans, this could prove to be a concern as Sydney have 29 players with finals experience (the most out of any club playing finals). Further, coach, John Longmire's, constant ability to inspire his playing group and outcoach opposition teams is one of the fundamental reasons as to why Sydney has missed only five finals series since 1996.

Through their quick ball movement, due to Blakey, Rampe, Gulden and Papley, the Swans are often able to counterattack opposition entries forward. This will be crucial to winning on Friday, as Carlton has set up effectively behind the ball during the past month. Concerningly for Longmire, the loss of Paddy McCartin has meant the Swans defensive 50 is relatively fragile. As such, they are ranked eighth in defence.

The Swans are also ranked 17th at stoppages and therefore will be looking to generate quick ball movement. Subsequently, if Sydney are to win this match and upset the Blues recent form resurgence, they will have to improve defensively.

Nonetheless, because Carlton have not played finals since 2013, they will no doubt be hungry to improve on their recent record. As such, I think hunger will outweigh finals experience in a match which can be won by either side. Carlton by 1-12.

ELIMINATION FINAL

Ross' Saints to Spoil Giant Party in Melbourne

by
Austin Lane

It has finally arrived. The AFL finals.

Every fan has been forced to wait for another week, however the build up seems to all be worth it as we approach kick-off in the AFL finals. As of Tuesday morning, three of the four games were officially sold-out, with the St Kilda vs GWS game the only one which had tickets still available for purchase. The Saints and Giants game will be played at the MCG on Saturday at 3:20pm AEST. In the last minor round games, both the Saints and the Giants featured in games which had ramifications on the final 8 ladder positions. Eventually it went right down to the wire between these two teams on the AFL ladder, with a couple late goals to Carlton keeping St Kilda in 6th spot – giving them a home final over GWS.

St Kilda ended their season on the road against a red-hot Brisbane Lions outfit. The Lions haven't lost at home all season and were looking to end the 2023 home and away season on the highest of highs. A win saw Brisbane claim second spot on the ladder and secure two home finals, while a win for the Saints saw them momentarily claim 5th position, while also cementing a home final in week 1 of finals.

The Saints started the game in hot form, kicking the first goal of the game to take an early lead. Brisbane didn't feel any pressure and that was clear, controlling the game for the next 20 minutes, however they only recorded one goal from their eight scoring shots within that period. To end the quarter, the Saints piled on two goals to Brisbane's one to head into the break trailing by one point, a much better result considering the scoring shots and inside 50s.

The second term began much the same way as the first term was played, a dominant display from the Lions with little reward. In the opening 10 minutes, the Lions had four scoring shots for one goal and three behinds. The rest of the quarter remained quite static and low-scoring, with Joe Daniher the lone goal scorer after the opening third of the quarter, leaving the Lions with a handy 14-point margin at the half.

ELIMINATION FINAL

by Austinn Lane

The Saints turned the tables early in the third, kicking the opening goal through Brad Crouch before adding two more to take the lead for the first time since the first term, before a short Brisbane run kept the lead around that three-goal margin. A late goal on return to Jack Hayes saw the margin sit at 12 points heading into the final term, with St Kilda possessing the momentum. With a potential home final on the line for both sides, there was certainly a bit of feeling in the air that it could still go either way. Chris Fagan has had a tough run in finals with Brisbane in his coaching stint and was out to prove that he can stand up in big games, while Ross Lyon has returned to St Kilda and is leading them into a finals series in his first season and would love a home final for his side.

The final term began and it immediately got interesting. Tim Membrey opened the term with a beautiful goal to bring it to 7 points early. With all the momentum, Brisbane had to respond fast or they were at risk of losing not only the game, but a crucial home final. That they did. Two consecutive goals saw Brisbane regain some composure and get another break, one that ultimately decided the game. Their shutdown defence stopped the Saints moving the ball at pace and won them the game in the end. A late goal did no damage, with Brisbane running out 12-point winners.

The final home and away game of the season saw Carlton host GWS, who were sitting outside of the top eight as the match started and needed a win to get in. There were a handful of teams anxiously watching this game with the result effecting their seasons, including the Saints and the Bulldogs, who GWS would knock out if they were to make the top 8. Carlton entered the match on a 9-game win streak and wanted to enter finals having won their last 10.

The Blues began the game with a goal to Matt Cottrell, before adding two more soon after through Charlie Curnow, who wrapped up the Coleman Medal nice and early in the match. GWS then kicked two goals to bring the margin back to within a goal, before a late goal to Matt Owies saw Carlton take a handy 7-point lead into the first break.

The second term sparked a response from the Giants, who come out and kicked the opening four goals of the quarter to take an 18-point lead at the 14-minute mark of the quarter. With the game seemingly slipping from their grasp, Carlton knew they had to do something soon or it could get out of hand. Two goals to Carlton saw them wrestle back some momentum, before a goal each late in the term saw the Giants maintain a lead of 5 points at the main break.

ELIMINATION FINAL

by Austinn Lane

The third term began in a tight contest, before the first goal was kicked by Carlton at the 8-minute mark to make the scores 53-53. Goals to Coniglio and Curnow saw them both extend their totals for the day to 2 and 3 respectively, before the avalanche was released. The Giants kicked 4 goals to 0 in the back half of the third quarter to extend the margin and essentially put the game out of reach for Carlton, but more importantly cement a finals berth for themselves.

A 26-point three-quarter time lead became 33 points in a matter of minutes, as GWS eyed off a win of 42+ to take 6th place off St Kilda and get a home final. GWS made it 45 points by the halfway mark of the final term and it left fans asking the question of how much can they win by. St Kilda fans were watching on in horror as they were watching their home final slip out of their hands in the most agonizing of ways. Luckily for Saints fans, Carlton kicked two late goals to make the margin under the required 42 points, giving them a home final by 0.7%. GWS eventually ran out 32-point winners, guaranteeing them a finals berth and capping off a strong first season for new coach Adam Kingsley.

Panning ahead to the weekend, the game is one of the more even matches that have been scheduled, with both sides having some strong form to end the season. St Kilda enter the finals having won 4 of their last 6 games, while GWS were on a 7-game win streak stretching all the way back to round 13, before going 2-2 in their last month. The game is going to be highly anticipated and super exciting to watch with two completely different game styles going up against one another.

St Kilda have been the best defensive side all season, limiting teams to low scores and shutting down their run and carry all across the ground. It has enabled them to win games where they haven't scored as much as they wished, but the defensive efforts kept them in the game enough to win. This is classic Ross Lyon football; the defensive game is what took Ross to four grand finals in three years in his previous coaching stints and it is proving to be a handful for teams once again. GWS on the other hand have used their speed and carry across the ground to break open teams and find holes in their defence in the back half of the season. Their half backs have overlapped and created great scoring opportunities in the last two months of the season and it has ultimately propelled them into finals.

It is often said that you can't win games without defence, and for that reason I believe the Saints narrowly edge out the Giants in what is poised to be an absolute nail-biter come Saturday afternoon at the home of footy. Saints by 13-24.

Melbourne (73) def Collingwood (31)

The season opener saw the defending champs start with a bang as a ferocious second half saw them shake off opponents Collingwood to win by 42 points. Thanks to a five goal third term the Dees overran their opponent to celebrate the unfurling of their premiership flag in style. The Pies had the better of the Dees in the first half but struggled to make any impact on the game after half time, kicking only three points. Melbourne have proven that they are still a side to be feared even after the retirement of Daisy Pearce last season.

Carlton v Gold Coast (34) def Gold Coast (32)

It was a nail biter at Ikon Park with Carlton hanging on to beat Gold Coast by 2 points. The Suns launched a charge in the fourth quarter but fell agonisingly short. The Blues appeared all setup for the victory after getting out to a 23-point lead early in the fourth quarter, but they then coughed up the final six scoring shots for the game. Forward Darcy Vescio was crucial for the Blues kicking three goals, and it was the team's first game under new coach Matthew Buck.

Geelong (65) def Western Bulldogs (17)

Geelong put on a show in front of their home crowd to beat Bulldogs convincingly by 48 points. It was all Geelong in the first half, kicking five unanswered goals while keeping the Dogs goalless and set them up for the big win. It was Geelong's debutants, Kate Surman and new Irish recruit Aishling Moloney who set the game alight. To make matters worse for the Bulldogs; Sarah Hartwig, who kicked both of the team's goals was subbed off with a thigh injury, and Elle Bennetts suffering a season ending ruptured ACL. The AFL has confirmed that a kick from Geelong's Prespakis that was declared a point should have been a goal but fortunately it had no real impact on the final result.

Hawthorn (30) def by Essendon (49)

Essendon proved to be too good in the end for Hawthorn to once again take the victory in their opening round clash, this time by 19 points. A few times Essendon threatened to break away but to the Hawks' credit they were able to hang in the contest for most of the match. They achieved this in the last quarter thanks to a four-goal streak in the second half. Hawthorn's Tamara Smith was reported for a dangerous tackle on Bonnie Toogood and will face the tribunal.

North Melbourne (56) def St Kilda (16)

North Melbourne have opened their 2023 account with a dominant win over St Kilda by 40 points at Blundstone Arena. North's Jasmine Garner set the tone of the day for North Melbourne after getting the first clearance and goal of the game within the first twenty seconds. The Saints were held scoreless in the first half, and were unable to make the most of their opportunities, with inaccurate kicking preventing them from causing North any troubles.

Brisbane (34) def by Richmond (40)

It was a tight low scoring affair between two of last year's finalists but Richmond emerged victorious over Brisbane by 6 points. Richmond levelled the scores late with a great entry kick to Katie Brennan, and took the lead after a strong tackle by Caitlin Greisner saw her awarded a free kick. Brisbane threatened to steal back the lead several times in the last minute of the game, but no one was able to get a clear shot on goal due to ferocious Richmond defence. The win has been dampened however with Mon Conti suffering an ankle injury after lighting the game up with 26 disposals, 8 clearances, and a goal.

Sydney (51) def GWS (46)

Sydney are celebrating their first win in the AFLW after a narrow defeat over their cross-town rivals, the Giants, by 5 points. GWS held the lead all day but a determined Sydney side dug deep to hold the Giants scoreless in the final term and assaulted the goals themselves to steal the win. The Giants had their chances to get the lead back in the dying minutes but the Sydney defence held strong. New co-captain Chloe Molloy helped spark the comeback with a flashy goal right before the three-quarter time break.

Fremantle (27) def West Coast (19)

It was a low scoring affair over in the West with Fremantle emerging the victors over West Coast by 8 points in the Derby. The recent wet weather in Perth meant it was a highly contested physical game, with Freo playing better to the conditions and dominating forward entry 37 to 22. It took West Coast until the 10-minute mark of the third quarter to get their first goal, but with a second only a couple of minutes later it looked for a moment they were going to pull off a comeback. But Fremantle held strong and have now won all six of the women's Derbies.

FIRST QUALIFYING FINAL

Sturt 10.8 (68) def by Adelaide 11.9 (75)

by
Lachy Jones

The Crows booked their ticket to a double chance matchup against Glenelg this week, with the chance of a Grand Final berth, after rallying late to defeat the Double Blues by seven points on Sunday.

Sturt led by as much as 35 points in the first half before trailing by as much as 15 points in the term, eventually falling short after a couple crucial misses in the last couple minutes. The turning point was Sturt's Amos Doyle suffering a suspected knee injury in the third term, as he was out-rucking the part-timer James Borlase, leading to a more even matchup in that department for the remainder of the game. Adelaide were able to capitalise on this and win more of the ball out the middle, creating space to run into.

The Double Blues' fast start, helped by two Connor McFayden goals in the first quarter, got them out to a convincing, and seemingly unassailable lead, when they led by six goals midway through the second term, but a couple late Crow goals, by Jay Boyle and captain Matty Wright, ended the half with a glimmer of hope.

The switch flipped at half time, as the Crows came out firing in the third, snagging the first three through Boyle, Sam Berry and Brayden Cook to cut the lead to 3 points, before consecutive Sturt goals withstood the onslaught, and the Double Blues went into the last quarter still with a 16-point lead.

The last quarter heroics of Riley Clamp (2.1) and Tariek Newchurch (2.1) helped the Crows gain the lead for the first time in the game, as they kicked five straight to turn a 16-point deficit into a 15-point lead. Jared Dakin (27 disposals, 7 clearances, 7 inside 50's) was huge for Sturt, and gave them some hope with a late goal to reduce the lead to nine, but two crucial misses, from very gettable spots, by Lachie Burrows and Casey Voss, would be the final shots of the match as the siren sounded shortly thereafter, signalling a comeback Crows win for the ages.

Sturt def by Adelaide (cont'd)

Lachy Jones

With no Harry Schoenberg or Matt Crouch, Tyler Brown made the most of his opportunities to lead the disposal tally for Adelaide, racking up 24 with 7 clearances, while Luke Nankervis (22 disposals, 4 rebound 50's) mopped up across half back and Patrick Parnell (21 disposals, 4 marks, 5 rebound 50's) was arguably Adelaide's best in the second half, taking various intercept marks and controlling play back there.

Casey Voss (26 disposals, 10 marks, 10 rebound 50's) was at his Team Of The Year best across half back, even sneaking forward late to no avail, while James Battersby led everyone in disposals (32) and clearances (10), taking on the Crows' midfield powerhouse by his lonesome.

Lachie Burrows (2.1) was the target up forward, taking several contested marks, but couldn't convert late when his side needed it, while Joshua Hone was uncharacteristically quiet to his normal standards, with just the one goal from his eight touches.

The result leaves Sturt having to beat Centrals this week to continue their finals charge, while the Crows maintained their double chance and will face Glenelg this week, with the winner going straight to the Grand Final.

SEMI FINAL PREVIEW

Glenelg V Adelaide

by
Lachy Jones

This should be a classic. Glenelg host Adelaide in a double chance semi-final. The winner goes straight to the Grand Final, and the loser will have to face the winner of Sturt and Central's for a chance at redemption. The Tigers will be well rested and can earn themselves an extra week off with a win here, but Adelaide will be fresh off a famous comeback win, with all the momentum in the world, and will look to upset Glenelg and play off in the 2023 Hostplus SANFL Grand Final. At full strength, these two have been the two best sides all year, and this may well be the Grand Final preview in a fortnight's time.

Glenelg, with just the three losses to their name, have been consistently dominant across the 18 rounds, but the Crows have made do with their ever-changing lineup. With players going in and out of the senior side all year, it's meant Adelaide has often been undermanned, but have held up well, and with the senior side missing finals they get their bodies back for the finals' series. Players like Borlase and Keane, who became mainstays in the AFL side in the back end of the year, now have a chance to win the SANFL side a premiership. Another name who has missed time recently, Kieran Strachan, is a chance to return this week to give their ruck stocks a massive boost and allow Borlase to play defence where he is best suited. The Crows will almost be full strength, so it will be a test for Glenelg to see where they're at after a week off.

The two sides met twice this year for mixed results. In round 8 Glenelg won narrowly 82-80, but in round 13 Adelaide returned the favour, winning 101-81, so the sides seem very well matched. Liam McBean kicked 5 and 4 goals respectively in the two games the sides played, proving to be a handful up forward, so Adelaide will need to contain him, while Lachlan Hosie had nine scoring shots in their most recent matchup. The tandem has been elite all year but will face a full-strength Crows defensive lineup in good form. Adelaide's two highest disposal getters in the two matchups, Matt Crouch and Harry Schoenberg, won't play, meaning Brown, Hatley, and Dowling must step up in the engine room against an experienced Glenelg midfield. The Crows will need big games from their midfield crop and hope no Himmelberg up forward won't prove too much inconvenience against this well-oiled Tigers side.

The two heavyweights should provide an instant classic on Sunday afternoon at the home of South Australian footy. Who will punch their ticket to a Grand Final berth in 2023?

Double Blues hold off Bulldogs to reach Preliminary Final

by
Tyler Maund

Week two of SANFL finals action sees Sturt and Central District lock horns in Sunday's First Semi-Final at Adelaide Oval. The Double Blues will be looking to bounce back after surrendering a near six goal lead in its seven-point loss against Adelaide in the Qualifying Final, whilst the Bulldogs are intent on continuing a three-match winning streak that saw them edge the Magpies by seven-points in the Elimination Final.

Sturt led from the outset in its clash with the Crows, at one stage leading by a game-high margin of 35-points in the second quarter, before a five-goal last term saw the Crows charge home to snatch a 10.8-68 to 11.9-75 win. Sturt Captain James Battersby led the way for the Double Blues with 32 disposals and 10 clearances, whilst Jared Dakin (27 disposals, one goal), Casey Voss (26 disposals) and Tom Lewis (24 disposals) were also influential. Versatile tall Connor McFadyen kicked three goals in a strong showing up forward.

It was an even battle for possession, with Adelaide edging Sturt 312-309 for disposals, the Double Blues won clearances 41-29 and inside 50s 49-43. Daniel Fahey-Sparks kicked the opening goal of the game for Sturt, in what would go on to be a strong quarter for the Double Blues, leading by 23-points at the first break courtesy of a late Josh Hone goal. The opening two goals of the second term saw the Double Blues stretch their lead to 35-points as they threatened to run away with the game.

A goal to Crows' Jay Boyle and a late major to Captain Matthew Wright saw Adelaide reduce the deficit to 21-points at half time. Three goals to begin the second had Adelaide breathing down the neck of Sturt, with Brayden Cook's second major of the day cutting the margin to just three-points.

The Double Blues steadied before three quarter time with goals to McFadyen and Lachlan Burrows, ending the third term with a 16-point lead. A dominant fourth quarter saw the Double Blues rendered helpless as the Crows piled on five unanswered goals, stretching out to a 15-point lead before Dakin kept the Double Blues alive with a late major. Late behinds to Burrows and Voss saw the margin trimmed to seven-points. An injury to first-choice ruckman Amos Doyle ensured the Double Blues were a rotation short in the second half, with his availability for this week's Semi-Final undetermined.

SEMI FINAL

Tyler Maund

A gutsy performance saw the Bulldogs outlast the Magpies in an arm wrestle, with a late goal to Nick Lange helping the Bulldogs to a 12.10-82 to 11.9-75 win. Aiden Grace starred for the Bulldogs with five goals, whilst Harry Grant led all ball winners on the ground with 22 disposals and 10 tackles. Leyton Chisholm and Cooper Dahms had 20 disposals each in a strong showing.

Central won the possession battle 283-261, but lost clearances 33-42 and inside 50s 43-48 in the seven-point win. Despite having twice the amount of scoring opportunities, the Bulldogs took a slender four-point lead into quarter time, with Hugo Munn and Grace kicking majors alongside a quick snap near the goal line from Isaiah Dudley for his first goal of the day.

Both sides exchanged goals for the majority of the second quarter before Orazio Fantasia turned the game on its head during an inspired six-minute patch that saw him convert three goals before half time, handing the Magpies an 11-point lead at the main break. A goal to small-forward Jed Hagan granted the Magpies a 17-point lead under a minute into the third term, before Szust missed consecutive opportunities to extend Port Adelaide's margin to a match-winning one. Grace asserted himself on the contest with three of the next four goals, including two brilliant finishes from the forward pocket with a set shot then check side on the run, cutting the Magpies margin to just six-points. Bulldogs' Kyle Presbury drew the game level with his goal in the 21st minute of the thirt term, before Magpies ruckman Scott Lycett extended Port Adelaide's margin back to a goal heading into three quarter time. Grace kicked his fifth goal to tie scores up once again early in the fourth term before Szust nailed his second goal to hand the Magpies back the lead. The first of two final quarter goals saw Lange tie the scores for the fourth time of the afternoon, before a steaming run inside 50 saw him kick a brilliant goal that would prove to be the matchwinner moments later.

The winner of Sunday's First Semi-Final will move on to a Preliminary Final where it will tackle the loser of the Second Semi-Final between Glenelg and Adelaide.

Sturt looked the winner for almost three quarters of its clash against Adelaide last weekend, with the injury to Doyle no doubt having a huge impact on surrendering such a significant lead. Sturt supporters will be eagerly awaiting the fitness of Doyle and experienced defender Guy Page, who has a hamstring concern, heading into Sunday's Final. Expect the Double Blues to keep their season alive this weekend against the Bulldogs, who can't be discounted due to their current winning form.
