2023 GRAND FINAL

Lions to be Crowned Kings of the Jungle

by
Nick Smith

How entertaining were the two preliminary finals. It is often said that the preliminary finals are better matches than the Grand Final. It is the fear of losing and there being no further chances, drives the team to succeed as we saw with Collingwood initially last Friday night.

To win by the barest of margins shows the maturity of the Collingwood side, and their ability to win big games of football when exposed to extreme pressure. Isaac Quaynor was magnificent again. His ability to out mark his opponent one on one, is a real skill and he demonstrates this many times in a game.

One player stood out like a beacon last Friday night. That was Jordan De Goey. Despite spending the last eight minutes of the game on the bench, De Goey was a real game changer for the Magpies, especially when the Giants had real momentum from halfway through the first quarter, up until the main break.

Good players become great players, if they can perform in finals. De Goey stood up in what was his best game for the season. He managed 34 disposals, but more importantly, a game high 13 clearances. These numbers show why De Goey is a critical cog, in the Collingwood machine. I suspect he will play a massive role again this weekend.

After a week off, the Magpies were able to take momentum early, and apply great pressure around the ball, as the Giants struggled to gain momentum. Despite the strong Collingwood start, the Giants were able to get back into the game and started dominating play. Yet poor goalkicking hurt them early, and allowed Collingwood to control the scoreboard.

Collingwood were tough, had plenty of run and their repeated intercept marks in the last quarter, allowed them to progress through to the big dance.

by
Nick Smith

The Brisbane Lions have won the right to join Collingwood at the MCG on Saturday. In a very different contest, the lions were jumped early by the brave Blues. The lions had a five-goal deficit to make up, just to get back on even terms. For the lions, they had done plenty of hard work in the second quarter.

So much so, they were in front on the scoreboard at the main break. From the restart, the lions appeared to always be in control and never let Carlton gain back momentum of the contest. A young player Keidean Coleman was excellent. He was able to record 21 disposals (18 kicks) and over 600 meters gained. It was his best game for the lions. Like De Goey, an important part of the Brisbane midfield and will be a handful for Collingwood.

My only concern was Charlie Cameron's kicking in front of goal. He finished the night with 1 goal 3 behinds. For Brisbane's sake, let's hope he has better accuracy on Saturday. I would hate to see poor goal kicking cost either side a premiership. Brisbane's record over Collingwood in recent years has been exceptional. This includes a round 23 victory at Marvel Stadium. The lions got the job done by four goals on that occasion in a reasonable high scoring game. I expect Saturday's match to be tough, and hard fought. The team that can settle first and take control of the momentum early, will go along way in setting themselves up for premiership success.

This really is a great way to finish season 2023. For all neutral supporters, we can only dream it will be our side, playing in the same fixture in 12 months' time. It will be close, but the lions to get home in a thriller.

MY TIP – Brisbane 1-7 points.

2023 GRAND FINAL

Collingwood v Brisbane

by
Craig Smith

The 2023 AFL Grand Final is a battle between the teams that finished 1 and 2 on the premiership table after the minor round. This does not always occur, but what is generally true is that in finals 'you are what you are.' In other words, it is very difficult to become something new in a four-week period at the end of the season. Habits that have been formed in a preseason creating a game style and that have evolved in the 23 minor rounds are what come to the fore under the extreme pressure of September.

Both teams have impressive forward lines. Indeed, after the minor round the Brisbane offense was ranked 1 and Collingwood were ranked 3. This is unsurprising when you analyse the personnel that Chris Fagan and Craig McRae have at their disposal as well as (for Brisbane) the "fast" conditions of the Gabba.

Joe Daniher and Eric Hipwood are a formidable tall forward combination. Even though they are both over 200 centimetres they are excellent athletes who hit up to the logos but are also quick to work back to forward 50. Joe Daniher has also contributed well as the second ruck man when required. This additional string to his bow enables Oscar McInerney to either rest or move forward as he did to great effect in the Preliminary Final on Saturday night. The tall forwards willingness to work up the ground at times gives Charlie Cameron the entire inside 50 to work in.

This is a nightmare for any one-on-one defender. Cameron is ever present and needs only minimal opportunities to have an impact on any game. Lincoln McCarthy and Cam Rayner are also important in the Brisbane forward half. They are both excellent overheads, can stand in a tackle and create considerable forward half tackling pressure. Zac Bailey also provides pace and class in the forward half as well as when he occasionally goes into the midfield.

In some ways the Collingwood forward half is a contrast to that of Brisbane. While there is some undoubted class in there it has a more 'workman like' feel to it. They have many avenues to goal, and all play their role to great effect.

Craig Smith

Brody Mihocek is a tireless worker, offering an excellent target and is rarely out marked. Jamie Elliott is a class act who is a difficult matchup. His ability to mark the ball is exceptional and his clutch goal kicking has been on show over the last two seasons. Bobby Hill and Beau McCreery provide explosive up and back pace and spark as well as defensive pressure.

The other point of difference is that the Collingwood midfielders tend to hit the scoreboard more consistently than their Brisbane counterparts and goal kicking contributions from the Daicos brothers and Jordan De Goey may prove important on Saturday.

The Collingwood back 7 work very hard to be structurally sound behind the ball. This is important for them to prevent oppositions scoring from turnover, particularly with their aggressive desire to play fast, higher risk corridor football with ball in hand. It is an impressive unit led of course by captain and All-Australian Darcy Moore. Nathan Murphy and Billy Frampton have also proved to be important with their ability to compete against the opposition key forwards at different times this year.

This allows Jeremy Howe to play the key role of intercept defender, a role he plays so spectacularly. He has also been released to go forward at times this season. Isaac Quaynor's development this year has been impressive. He is rarely beaten in a one-on-one contest but also uses the ball very well on the rebound. This can also be said of Brayden Maynard who provides physicality and leadership. I expect Quaynor to play the anchor role and therefore expect him to do the job one-on-one on Charlie Cameron.

A key area of improvement this year for Brisbane was on full show in their Preliminary Final win last Saturday. Their defence held up very well in the first quarter considering the pressure they were put under. Carlton did kick 5 goals, but they had over 20 forward 50 entries. Co-captain Harris Andrews led from the front brilliantly in repelling the Carlton onslaught and not only broke even but won some critical one-on-one contests.

This allowed Keidean Coleman and Connor McKenna to gradually work into the game and become influential in generating drive from half back. Coleman's ball use is elite, and he has licence to bite off plenty with his offensive inside 45° kicking and McKenna can manufacture kicks that hit targets few others can find.

Craig Smith

As cliché as it sounds it is highly likely this grand final will be decided in the midfield. Both teams have an excellent mix of inside grunt and outside class. Josh Dunkley's addition to the Brisbane midfield has introduced a critical defensive component, particularly at stoppage. His defensive mindset has allowed Hugh McCluggage and Lachie Neale to provide even more offensive drive. Neale winning the Brownlow for a second time highlights two things. One, the exceptional footballer he is. He just never fumbles! And two, the fact that the greater footballing public probably still underrates him due to him being a little 'off Broadway' in Brisbane. I suspect Dunkley will have a huge role to play blunting the influence of De Goey. Look for him to physically engage De Goey at every opportunity at stoppage.

It starts for the Lions with Oscar McInerney. He is often underestimated but his Preliminary Final performance was evidence of what he can do. He is especially dangerous when he is taking the ball out of the ruck or hitting it long to just get it forward and out of congestion. Darcy Cameron and Mason Cox will need to be at their best to quell McInerney's influence.

Collingwood have many midfield options and although they will no doubt miss the hardness and leadership of Taylor Adams, they are well served by Brownlow Medallist Tom Mitchell and Scott Pendlebury in that regard. It may only be once he retires (which still appears some time off) that the influence and high quality that Pendlebury has been able to maintain over a long period of time will be truly appreciated. Add to this the class of Nick Daicos, the explosiveness of De Goey and the relentless work rate and football IQ of Steele Sidebottom on the wing and it is obvious why the Magpies ability to move the ball quickly has been a feature all year.

The winner of this game cannot be confidently predicted. It is a genuine 50-50 contest. If this game was played 6 weeks ago, I would have tipped Collingwood, but their form in the last 6 weeks has dropped off just a touch. It also appears that Brisbane have genuine belief that this is their time. If pressed for a tip I am saying Brisbane, but not by a lot. Either way I am expecting this to be a high-quality game and a great grand final that will be in the balance for much of the day.

2023 GRAND FINAL

Lions to Repeat History on the MCG

by Austinn Lane

It has arrived. After a long year of hard-fought, exhilarating footy, it comes down to the final Saturday in September. Collingwood have been the best side all year, sitting comfortably on top of the ladder for the majority of the year. They had a scare last week against a resurgent Giants outfit, however as we have seen before, the kings of winning close games did so once again to book their place in the Grand Final.

They meet the Brisbane Lions, who are in their first Grand Final since 2004, are humming at the best time of the year. They have been really lucky with limited injuries and have been playing their best football over the last 6-8 weeks heading into the biggest game that their squad would have played in to date.

Collingwood were the first to book their name into the Grand Final, coming away with a thrilling win against the GWS Giants on Friday night. The game started as a tight contest with both sides displaying desperation for the ball and fight at the contest. Eventually, a Dan McStay goal broke the drought for Collingwood, as the 97,000 strong crowd roared as it sailed through. Collingwood kicked one more goal through Jack Crisp in the quarter, while the general play was played quite tough, making scoring quite difficult. Collingwood entered the first break with an 11-point lead. GWS come out in the second term, somehow displaying more fight than they did in the first term, and it showed on the scoreboard.

A Toby Greene goal at the six-minute mark kickstarted the GWS comeback, before Tom Green followed through with one of his own to take the lead for the Giants. Another GWS goal gave them a buffer of seven points, as it became evident, they had all the momentum in the game. A late goal to Jake Riccardi put the Giants up by 10 points at the main break after restricting Collingwood to just four behinds in the term. The feeling at halftime was that this was going to be a belter of a game, with it going down to the final moments. The third term started and every fan knew that Collingwood had the scoring end of the ground, with all the goals kicked at one end of the ground to this point in the game.

Lions to Repeat History on the MCG (cont'd)

by Austinn Lane

However, Toby Greene kicked a goal in the opening minutes to stretch the lead to 16 points, making it slightly harder for Collingwood. After the ball being stuck in the Giants forward half for 10 minutes, Collingwood found the ball down their end and resulted in a Bobby Hill goal to spark some fire and momentum into the Magpies out-fit. Dan McStay kicked his second just minutes later, before the momentum took over and Collingwood kicked 3 of the last 4 goals of the term to snatch the lead, taking a 4-point lead into the final term, making for the most exciting of last terms.

It was a tight quarter with both sides pressure through the roof all term. GWS utility Daniel Lloyd opened the goalkicking for the final term, gifting the Giants the lead again by kicking truly, before minutes later a Mason Cox goal gave the Pies life again, as well as the lead.

The game was played mostly between the two 50 metre arches for most of the final term, before a late Jesse Hogan goal put the Giants one-point down with seven minutes left to play. The kings of winning close games went into their shutdown mode, forcing repeat stoppages to milk time off the clock, while GWS struggled to gain control of the ball enough to reset and have an attacking possession.

Eventually the siren went and ended the most intense and stressful seven minutes for both Giants fans and Collingwood fans, however the Magpies were through to the big one, breaking the Giants hearts.

The Saturday twilight game was played at the GABBA between Brisbane Lions and Carlton Blues. The Blues have been one of the success stories of the season along with the Giants, fighting from the bottom of the ladder at the conclusion of round 15 to feature in their first finals series in 11 years.

The Lions are the only team to make finals in all of the last five seasons, however have only made it as far as the Prelim finals. The match began and Carlton come storming out of the gates, with Matt Cottrell kicking a goal in the opening minute to set the Blues on track early. Harry McKay then kicked truly to give the blues a 13-point margin 10 minutes into the match, before goals to Jack Martin and Sam Docherty lifted the Carlton crowd from their seats as they jumped to a 24-point lead very early in the contest. A goal to Coleman Medallist Charlie Curnow set the crowd alight, as Carlton entered the first term with all the momentum and a 23-point lead, much to the shock of not only the Lions fans, but the majority of AFL fans around the country.

The second term began and the crowd were urging the Lions to do some damage. They started well, with two goals to Oscar McInerney and Joe Daniher gifting them life. A captain's goal to Patrick Cripps gave the Blues some breathing space again, before the floodgates opened at the other end. The Lions kicked three more goals in the term to snatch the lead back right before half time, heading into the main break with a 3-point lead, against all odds after the onslaught that was Carlton in the first term.

The third term started similar to the second, with Brisbane kicking two goals in the opening four minutes to extend their lead to 15 points early in the term. Despite plenty of scoring in the term, only one more goal was added through Brisbane's Callum Ah Chee, leaving the Lions with a match-winning lead of 20 points heading into the final term.

The final term was quite even all round. Lincoln McCarthy opened the goal scoring for the Lions, stretching the lead to 27 points early. Carlton then kicked two goals of their own to bring it back to 16 points at the 20 minutes mark, before both sides added one goal each to see the Lions make their first grand final in 19 years to the tune of 16 points.

Looking forward to the weekend, it is the biggest game of the season and with 1st and 2nd on the ladder facing off, it arguably doesn't get a whole lot bigger than this. Collingwood have been on top of the ladder all year, while Brisbane have been nipping at their heels for the majority of the season, using their home ground advantage to full effect.

However, two of Collingwood's five losses have come at the hands of the Lions this season, the only team to beat them twice this season. The Lions power can be too strong for the Magpies, and with key forward Dan McStay going down with a mcl injury in the Prelim, Collingwood are now forced to make a change which may alter their game style. Brisbane are fit and firing and although the game is at the MCG, they look like the team in most form out of these two sides.

Brisbane by 13-24.

Hawthorn (11) def by Melbourne (70)

Melbourne have made it an astounding 13 wins in a row in emphatic fashion with a 59-point thrashing over Hawthorn. The work rate of the Hawks was not fairly reflected on the scoreboard, but the skill of Melbourne was a few classes above the new expansion side. It took until the 6-minute mark of the third quarter for the Hawks to get their first and only goal of the game despite winning the inside 50s by one, with the Dees demonstrating they are just as powerful in defence as they are attack. Now sitting on the top of the ladder the chances of going back to back for Melbourne are looking more likely with each passing week.

Carlton (40) def by Richmond (47)

Richmond are beginning to get a reputation as the comeback queens after another come from behind victory, this week against Carlton by 7 points. The Tigers had a better start and held a 11-point lead at quarter time but were then held goalless by the Blues until the final quarter after they dragged the Tigers back into a highly contested game. But the final quarter well and truly belonged to the yellow and black, kicking three goals to one. It was a great joy to fans when the two skippers, Peterson and Brennan were matched up on each other after Brennan kicked two early goals, with Blue's skipper winning battle and curbing Brennan's influence after the move.

Sydney (34) def West Coast (21)

Sydney notched up their second AFLW win this weekend against the struggling Eagles by 13 points. West Coast fought back midway through game kicking a goal on either side of half time, but the Swans were able to steady and secured the win in the last quarter. The Eagles showed some improvement, but kicked 9 behinds which prevented them putting any scoreboard pressure on the Swans. Chloe Molloy kicked a crucial goal for the Swans with a great snap from the boundary after a smoother, while ruckman Ally Morphett had a huge 34 hitouts and 10 clearances.

North Melbourne (33) def by Brisbane (35)

Brisbane put an end to North's winning streak with a heartbreaking 2-point victory. Brisbane had only kicked one point up until the 15-minute mark of the second quarter, but then stormed home to keep their undefeated streak against the Roos alive. A goal with only 5 minutes left to play put Brisbane in front for the first time, and tough defence in the final minute ensured that North did not have a clear chance to take it back. Emma Kearney attempted a kick from outside 50 after the siren for the win but the kick fell well short. The win was a great birthday gift for Shannon Campbell who also kicked the game winning goal.

St Kilda (47) def Collingwood (35)

In the best comeback win of the season so far, the Saints kicked five fourth quarter goals to defeat Collingwood by 12 points. The Saints were scoreless in the first quarter, and it appeared was going to be a win to the Pies but the Saints clawed their way back into the game thanks to astounding tackling pressure to keep the Pies goalless in the second and fourth terms. The Pies held the lead by 25 points early in the third but then a string of six goals saw the Saints steal away the win. It was the traded players who were the ones to watch with Jaimee Lambert, now at the Saints, and Tarni White, now at Collingwood, kicking goals at crucial moments.

Essendon (50) def Fremantle (30)

Essendon are starting to present themselves as a contender in only their second season in the AFLW after a solid 20-point victory over Fremantle. The Bombers were able to stamp their dominance over the game in the second half, kicking five of the last seven goals. They outran Fremantle in the end, winning disposals 271-212, and beating them in the air winning marks 58-34. Co-Captain Bonnie Toogood again starred for the Bombers with two goals, and rejoiced in how great it was to play in front of a packed Reynolds Stand in Essendon heartland at Windy Hill.

Gold Coast (48) def Western Bulldogs (44)

Gold Coast were able to hold on against a fighting Bulldogs side to remain in the top 8 after a gruelling 4-point win. The Bulldogs kicked the last three goals of the game but it wasn't enough to catch the Suns who had the majority of the ball in the final crucial minutes. The Suns were able to win the game in the areas where it counted most, winning both the contested possession and the centre clearances to give their side first look at the ball. It's been a disappointing start for the Dogs who are still winless after making finals last season, with coach Nathan Burke calling on the forwards to perform better.

Round 4: GWS Giants (37) def by Adelaide Crows (106)

by
Samantha Field

The Crows are soaring after posting the second highest score in AFLW history and thrashing the Giants by 69 points.

The Giants fought to stay in the game early but were completely blown away by a nine goal to zero second half.

It was the first time the Crows have played in Canberra but they looked right at home with their trademark intensity around the ball and no shortage of firepower up forward with eleven goalkickers. They got the game rolling early with the first two goals of the game, but let the Giants off with a few other shots going wayward. GWS made them pay with a swift play from defence leading to the first inside 50 and goal to get themselves into the game.

On the back of one of their best plays this season GWS kicked the first goal of the second quarter to draw the margin back to only 2 points and it would have been hard to believe how the game was going to end.

But the Crows kept their cool and responded with the next three goals, including one to Deni Varnhagen who returned to the side this week after being on the inactive list following the AFL's vaccine protocols.

The Giants tried to mount another challenge in the third quarter with a ferocious attack on the football but all five of their shots went wayward to see their hard work go to waste.

When the Crows kicked three more goals to take a 30-point lead going into three quarter time it put an end to hopes of a comeback.

Round 4: GWS Giants (37) def by Adelaide Crows (106)

by
Samantha Field

GWS continued their disappointing trend of fading out in the fourth quarter, failing to register a score for the third time this season. The Crows had no such problems as they had their best quarter for the game, kicking six goals with all GWS' pressure having disappeared, and falling just short of the Demon's record highest score by 1 point.

To further hurt GWS, Teagan Germech came from the ground in the first quarter unable to put any weight on her leg after a heavy collision.

Ebony Marinoff was absolutely everywhere, having an incredible 40 touches, 9 clearances, and 8 tackles. Her partner in crime Anne Hatchard also continued her great season with 22 touches, 6 tackles and 4 clearances. Eloise Jones headed the goal kickers list with four, with Danielle Ponter and Niamh Kelly also kicking multiples with two apiece.

For the Giants, Alyce Parker was the standout with 31 disposals and a game high 10 clearances, with Zarlle Goldsworthy continuing to impress with a game high 10 tackles, 19 disposals and a goal.

Match Summary

Round 4: Port Adelaide (42) def by Geelong (70)

by
Samantha Field

A slow start proved very costly for Port Adelaide as they went down to Geelong at home by 28 points. It was a game of two halves, with the Power having opportunities for a comeback but inaccurate kicking preventing any chance of a win.

The first half was all about Geelong with their rebound from defence setting up all the play and poking holes in Port's team defence. But after half time Port got their surge footy game going in an impressive response to a disappointing first half.

Port started the game on the front foot, getting the first clearance and forward 50 entries, but Geelong were able to make more of their opportunities, dominating the uncontested ball and kicking all four goals of the opening term. Port struggled to get the contest first, and were outmuscled at centre clearance.

The second quarter was much like the first, with the Geelong forwards strong in the air and on the ground to kick the first three goals. But when Port did get it forward, they looked dangerous and finally got reward from effort with the side's first goal just before half time to Gemma Houghton. Port came out firing in the third, with a goal to Ash Saint within 30 seconds, but the Cats defence forced them to make mistakes inside 50 and they only kicked one more goal for the quarter despite their dominance.

Geelong meanwhile were able to get two goals of their own, largely thanks to Georgie Prespakis who stood up when the game was starting to turn and kicking one the goals herself.

In the last term Port had seven scoring shots compared to Geelong's two, yet for all their work the quarter was another stale mate. It took four misses before Port slotted their first goal, but with Geelong answering with the next two it typified a frustrating day for the Power who, while showing plenty of positives, are still finding their feet.

Round 4: Port Adelaide (42) def by Geelong (70)

by

Indy Tahau went down in the second with a knee injury which has now been confirmed as an ACL. Katelyn Pope also hurt her knee but was able to play out the game. Ash Saint received a one game ban for a careless tackle.

After a sluggish 2022 season, Erin Phillips is starting to get back to her best, looking dangerous at the centre bounces with five clearances, 15 disposals (mostly contested) and providing some crucial defence to stop goals. Houghton did all she could to try to get the win, leading the team's disposals with 18, and kicking three goals including the 50th of her career.

Chloe Scheer was a solid player for the Cats, giving something all around the ground and kicking a goal in each quarter. Prespakis continues to impress, this week with 21 disposals, 9 tackles, 5 clearances and a goal while Kate Surman was effective against her old side with 15 disposals and a goal.

2023 GRAND FINAL

Glenelg 13.8 (86) def Sturt 8.14 (62)

by
Lachy Jones

The Tigers stamped their names into the history books on Sunday, winning their sixth SANFL premiership by 24 points over Sturt in an enthralling contest. Glenelg started strongly, kicking the first four goals of the game, and never looked back, keeping their distance despite some Sturt runs in the second half to cap off a remarkable year for the club.

Ken Farmer Medallist Lachie Hosie added to his resume in 2023, booting six goals to win the Jack Oatey Medal for best afield in the emphatic win. Hosie got the Tigers started with a tough snap from the boundary, and could not be stopped all game long, adding 12 disposals and winning 4 free kicks to aid his team.

Corey Lyons was also excellent in the win, amassing 28 touches and adding a goal to go with his monster 8 clearance, 7 inside 50 midfield performance, while Matthew Snook laid a whopping 15 tackles to pair with his 26 disposals and 6 clearances.

The game looked all but over early when Glenelg kicked the only four goals of the first quarter, but around the ground Sturt hadn't been outplayed – they missed three very gettable goals with two hitting the post in the first term which could have made the contest a lot more intriguing. In fact, it took them six behinds and eight minutes into the second term to register a major, through Oliver Grivell, before Glenelg again answered to go into half time up 29 points.

Sturt's glaring issue was their exit out of their defensive 50. Their rebounds were off target and ended up gifting Glenelg second and third chances to get the ball back inside; this was a product of the Tigers high-end forward pressure, forcing turnovers. It often wasn't the first inside 50 that Glenelg capitalised on, more so the repeat entries they would consistently get all contest long Though, Will Coomblas was epic for Sturt in the back half, and although his disposal efficiency wasn't up to standard, he stopped multiple Glenelg surges by himself, and even snuck forward for a huge goal in the third quarter.

The Double Blues were right in the contest in the middle of the ground, with their engine room matching it with Glenelg's clearance for clearance.

Tom Lewis battled hard as he always does for his Double Blues and was Sturt's best in a losing effort with 21 touches and 18 tackles, while his running mate James Battersby willed his side forward on numerous occasions with 11 clearances from his 24 disposals.

A crucial double goal in the third term, after a James Matthews volley out of mid air sparked a scuffle resulting in a direct free kick to James Richards before the ball was bounced again, ignited a mini-Sturt run, and after Coomblas' goal made it three on the trot, there was life in the contest. However, Glenelg quickly put that to bed with three of the next four goals to end the quarter, and inevitably, the game.

The way Glenelg set up behind the footy was impressive in thwarting any flow of Sturt's running game, with countless intercept possessions sending the Tigers back the other way. This then translated to counter attacking footy, and James Bell and Matthew Allen, among others, were instrumental in the link-up play. It was, for the most part, a clinical display on the biggest stage from Glenelg – a worthy winner of the 2023 Hostplus SANFL season.

With the double in reserves, it capped off a flawless year for the Glenelg Football Club, and the Bays will be hoping to replicate this season in 2024, when their title defence begins.
