West Coast v Adelaide Crows

Optus Stadium - 4.40pm (Sunday)

An underwhelming performance from Adelaide has seen the Crows go down to cross town rivals

by
Liam Sheedy

Port Adelaide proved too strong for Adelaide in Showdown 49 with the Crows going down to their cross-town rivals by 49 points.

Unfortunately for Adelaide the stats tell the tale. When the opposition has 96 more disposals, 10 more marks inside 50, 14 more scoring shots along with winning clearances and contested ball then it is a recipe for an unfavourable result. The Crows did manage 49 inside 50s but for the first time this season Taylor Walker was held goalless, Riley Thilthorpe the only multiple goal kicker for Adelaide with two.

Work rate was not an issue and the Crows certainly never stopped trying but you never really felt they were a realistic chance of winning with the Power simply having too much class and polish.

Adelaide was not helped on the injury front losing Ned McHenry early in the game to concussion, the sling tackle from Power ruckman Scott Lycett sent straight to the tribunal. Small forward Lachlan Murphy also injured in the first term now faces a lengthy spell on the sidelines with confirmation surgery will be required after suffering a syndesmosis injury. Paul Seedsman continues his impressive form in 2021 and Rory Sloane made a welcome return gathering 20 disposals and not surprisingly laid 10 tackles which was the most of any player on the field.

A tough challenge awaits next week with a clash in Perth against West Coast. Four goals in the SANFL may see Billy Frampton get another opportunity at senior level while Chayce Jones and Jackson Hatley may also come into selection calculations.

Port Adelaide v Sydney Swans

Adelaide Oval - 2.10pm (Saturday)

Port get the Showdown edge

Port Adelaide Power had little trouble and hardly got out of second gear in a 49-point win against a plucky Adelaide Crowd in Showdown 49. Travis Boak was awarded his third Showdown Medal in a best-on-ground effort as the Power won 12.15 (87) to 5.8 (38). Port is likely to be without star ruckman Scott Lycett for some weeks after his sling tackle knocked out Ned McHenry.

by
Nick Kossatch

That aside, Lycett could have easily won the Showdown Medal along with Miles Bergman, who was composed and classy off halfback and likely recruit of the year, intercept defender Aliir Aliir. The latter may well have another AA acronym alongside his name. Port's other two key defender Toms - Clurey and captain Jonas were magnificent and in-form Crows' forward Taylor Walker was thrashed by Clurey. That is All Australian.

Port Adelaide's sixth win of the season came off the back of the aforementioned names and key forwards Todd Marshall (three goals), Charlie Dixon and Mitch Georgiades (two goals each). And pleasing for the Power fans was to see Kane Farrell win some footy and kick a superb goal from his intercept mark. He did enough to keep his spot for this Saturday's blockbuster against Western Bulldogs also at Adelaide Oval.

Ollie Wines, Karl Amon and Robbie Gray also kept the Power engine room purring in greasy conditions. Power coach Ken Hinkley said team defence was what stood out on a dewy Saturday night. "I thought they were outstanding," the Port coach said in his post-match press conference on the portadelaidefc.com.au site. "I thought Trav got the medal but Tom Clurey was equally as good a player out there. "We probably had three or four that could have but I thought Tom's performance on an in-form player in Tex (Walker), he really did own that contest." He also lauded Aliir, captain Jonas and former leader Boak. "Trav's a long way from done, I think he's planning on playing his 400th, not just his 300th," Hinkley smiled.

"I came here nearly nine years ago and made him captain and every time I've asked him to be the player he's done it, and that's all you can mark people by. "When you need him, he's there. He's a fantastic person and he's been equally a great player." Equally as great was the Port players singing the club song in the club's traditional prison bar guernsey post game.

Carlton Capitulate again. Has Teague's time run out?

by
Matthew Anderson

Who would want to be an AFL Coach? David Teague former assistant Coach at the West Coast Eagles joined Carlton in mid 2019 and has a 15 -20 win loss record. However, is that good enough?

There are several teams in the competition this year where the question will be asked as whether it is time to get a new coach and Carlton would appear increasingly likely to fall in that category.

Collingwood and North Melbourne are already after only 8 rounds well below the remainder of the teams in the competition and building and experimenting with their team line ups and it would be reasonable to think that Collingwood may well be changing coach and spending the rest of this season trying to regain some form and start building towards a more successful season in 2022. North Melbourne well with their current injury list there is very little any coach can do with them as they simply don't have the players available at the standard required to be competitive.

Carlton however, are only 1 win out of the 8 and at half time against the Western Bulldogs looked far the better side. The final margin was 16 points. If you hadn't watched their past couple of matches and only read the score in the paper tomorrow you could well believe it was an respectable loss given the 2 teams respective positions on the premiership table. Carlton the past few of weeks have looked very good in the first half and part of the third quarter either leading or being highly competitive with teams that would be expected to compete in the finals series. The record this season for Carlton stands at 5 and 8 not good but not to bad when you consider past seasons are where they have come from in the past 2 season especially to this season.

The game plan looks good and for other half the game it troubles opposition sides but as the third quarter progresses against a top 8 side the game plan totally unravels. The loss 3 weeks ago against Brisbane looked like a young team that tired out in the second half and were simply over run by a fitter and more experienced side. It looked initially like a respectable loss or was it? The following week against Essendon, Carlton won well against a team that is unlikely to feature in September they played with confidence and they looked like them had learned and improved from their previous week defeat against Brisbane. Looks however, can be deceiving.

Carlton against the Western Bulldogs were impressive in the first half and looked like they would go on to win the match. It was midway through the third quarter and the cracks appeared and alarming comparisons in the similar way they to played the second half against Brisbane could be easily drawn.

The Carlton game plan consistently falling apart against final contender sides raises a few questions. Is it due to the a young side just not being fit enough to implement their game plan for a full 4 quarters? Doubtful as they had no trouble doing it against Essendon who they were expected to win against. Another possibility is they just can't as yet handle the match day pressure when it counts against superior performed and more experienced teams. Again looking at their season as a whole to date that would seem also unlikely to be the cause of the fade outs in the last half of the match.

After watching Carlton on the weekend it would appear that the reason they are failing to win when they are in a position to do so is not due to their skill errors or fitness but in their belief in themselves. To be over run by a superior team on the day is one thing, but Carlton dropped away all over the ground when they were challenged and the game was there to be won. They appeared that they didn't believe in their team system of play when pressure was applied to it and instead of attempting to respond to the pressure they were simply and far too easily brushed aside with little resistance. The tv camera flashed into their coaches box and showed their coach David Teague with his chin resting on one hand on his desk and his facial expression was completely blank. Almost as if he was bored watching the game.

Carlton are still well within reach of eight so now is the time 8 games into the season to look at what is best for the club to give it the greatest chance of featuring in the finals this season. After Saturday's on field performance and the coach that looked less than enthusiastic about watching the game let alone coaching it, maybe it is time now for a change at Carlton. Teams often change coach after a bad run of losses. However, after Saturday's performance and what appeared to be lack of belief and drive in the Carlton football players and coach maybe now is the time for Teague to go. Re-ignite the energy and belief in the players with a new coach and save a season that appears to be rapidly slipping away.

TEAM TALK with JORDAN

Location, Location

The AFL Grand Final is each year held at the iconic MCG which is short for the Melbourne Cricket Ground. The Stadium is a showpiece of not only Melbourne but of Australia and the world. The ground can hold just over a 100,000 people and when achieving that, it is a Colosseum like no other with the atmosphere and noise beyond overwhelming it's difficult to not have spine tingles knowing first-hand what it is like. For all the plaudits and success that the MCG has had for continuously hosting the Grand Final there has been and there still is an ongoing debate regarding equality and fairness of the location of the Grand Final since Melbourne is home to 10 out of the 18 AFL clubs and 6 out of those 10 clubs are permanent tenants of the MCG. There is the main reason being that the premiership decider should be shared around each year with the benefits being farer on the interstate teams that have to travel and to continue to cultivate the game outside of the Victorian heartland. Those on the other side of the fence point to tradition that the MCG has and always will be the home of the Grand Final. Outdated is the word that first comes to mind when hearing that it is a "tradition" yes, a VFL tradition to host the Grand Final not an AFL one.

by
Jordan Sennett Perez

Prior to the game going national in 1990, when local suburban grounds were still in regular use, the MCG made sense as a largely neutral ground with no team being a regular permanent tenant of the ground. Since the AFL went down the centralisation road which saw imbalance within the competition rise, playing the Grand Final at the MCG which as mentioned before is home to several Victorian based clubs is the single biggest hindrance on the 8 non-Victorian clubs in the AFL. Since 2003, just 5 interstate teams have claimed the premiership and 3 out of those 5 were against fellow non-Victorian teams. Seven Victorian teams to go with 4 more who play their home games elsewhere in Melbourne have claimed the other flags, some against teams who were not only interstaters but the higher ranked team. Did home ground advantage play a part in it? Absolutely 100% yes and should the higher ranked team host the Grand Final wherever they are based in Australia? Absolutely yes again.

One is example is Richmond who have arguably or unarguably been the best team in the competition for the past few seasons but their charges towards their 2017 and 2019 premierships make for much closer analysis than what was originally given. In 2017, the Tigers did not once leave the MCG and even unofficially hosted the qualifying final against Geelong even though the Cats were the higher ranked and the game really should have been played at Geelong's actual home ground (Kardinia Park) located in the city of Geelong located 75km south-west of Melbourne and also played host to and beat the higher ranked Adelaide in that year's Grand Final where home-ground advantage was a huge factor. Even more noteworthy is in 2019 where Richmond played at the MCG for 7 consecutive weeks and only leaving once thereafter to play Brisbane in the qualifying final in Brisbane which they won therefore heading straight back to the MCG on route to the flag. These outcomes and circumstances cannot go unnoticed, these things can't be simply brushed aside as a footnote, it must be brought to attention as a flaw and a huge inconsistency and fixturing within the AFL. The MCG has the contractual agreement to hold the Grand Final until 2057 which is a long time away... Too long. Come the year 2058 there must be change and the AFL will become a true national competition.

Woes for the Crows continue

Ever since the surprising walloping the Crows received to the hands of Richmond in the 2017 Grand Final, it has been a very tough road for Adelaide which has no signs of exits.

A twelfth finish in 2018, eleventh in 2019 and the wooden spoon last season, it has been a dramatic and escalated decline as they triumphed as minor premiers in 2017 to claim the McClelland Trophy. So far in this action-packed 2021 season, proceedings commenced optimistically for the Crows as they were three wins to one loss after the first four rounds. Perhaps it was an indication that the extreme woe of the last few seasons is maybe past forgettable history for this proud club, however after four consecutive defeats, it suggests that their woes and struggles are still staring them in the eyes.

Where did it go wrong for the Crows? Why did it go awfully wrong? As a passionate and die-hard Crow's supporter this is not an easy piece to write. Adelaide faced a lot of trauma, the murder of coach Phil Walsh and the death of assistant coach Dean Bailey was devastating for the club, their players and their faithful. However, they showed resilience by recording an extremely successful 2017 season, even though it came to an unconventional conclusion. But that is not where it went wrong.

Their 2018 Pre-Season camp conducted by Collective Minds in Northern Queensland is a strong attributer to their extreme dip in form and self-esteem. It was a camp designed to improve the mental strength and capabilities of the players but did the opposite as many were severely traumatised. Head of Football for Adelaide, Brett Burton was put on the chopping block in relation to this.

The loss of star players such as Charlie Cameron, Eddie Betts, Josh Jenkins, Alex Keath and Jake Lever has also been a major contributor as their list was severely wounded. The conclusion of 2019 saw Don Pyke step down as coach and former Port Adelaide and GWS assistant, Matthew Nicks has been entrusted to nurse a new era at the Adelaide Football Club.

This current season has shown some positive signs thus far, but their struggles of the last few seasons are influencing their results on the field. Last weekend's Showdown 49 showcased that Adelaide still have an incredibly long journey to endure to return to the form they used to. Their 49-point defeat to the Power was a tough game to endure. It showcased their current inability to notch effective forward 50 entries. Taylor Walker played his most mediocre game of the season as he remained goalless. As the Power have a strong midfield, they showed their dominance; the young Crows parading the midfield led by captain Rory Sloane were simply outplayed. On paper, Adelaide has a decent forward-line led by Walker. The addition of 18-year-old number two draft pick, Riley Thilthorpe looks to be a future clubman and star. However, the way you win games is peppering the scoreboard and perhaps the missing ingredient that could cure their woes is some finesse and composure in their midfield to create better scoring opportunities.

Adelaide currently has the youngest team in the competition, the woes are most definitely going to continue but it is seen as an investment into the club's playing future. Nicks certainly has a gargantuan task on his hands to build a positive future for Adelaide.

ANXIETY

Anxiety is a business that is built around building awareness and support to people living with anxiety. Having anxiety himself, CJ knows what it is like to live with the unknown of when anxiety is going to creep up on you. He wanted to let people know that its not something to be afraid of and it is ok to talk about. Whether you're on the lookout for a new hoodie, t-shirt or hat stop by the store and browse our latest collections. 10% of profits go to support Beyond Blue.
