Crows claim famous Showdown victory

Gun recruit Jordan Dawson has secured Adelaide's first victory of the season with an after the siren goal that will go down in Showdown folklore and condemned Port Adelaide to a 0-3 start to the 2022 season.

As expected, the intensity in the first quarter was off the charts with both teams desperate but it was Port Adelaide who took a 19-point lead into the first change.

At different times the Power threatened to kick away but poor finishing coupled with the Crows great resilience and character allowed them to remain in the contest throughout.

Adelaide would outscore their crosstown rival in each of the last three quarters of the game and kicked the last four goals of the match against a panicky Power outfit to secure a remarkable victory amid scenes of pandemonium.

Dawson rightfully will take a lot of credit for the final goal from the free kick awarded to Lachlan Murphy, but the former Swan was immense all game.

A return of 24 disposals, two goals and five score involvements rightly rewarded with the Showdown Medal as best player afield.

The usual suspects Matt Crouch & Ben Keays got plenty of the ball and the returning Rory Laird was the highest disposal winner on the ground gathering 31 touches.

In only his third AFL game Lachlan Gollant kicked four goals while the much-maligned Elliot Himmelberg also booted a career high four goals to keep the critics at bay.

Taylor Walker will be available for selection this week after serving a six-game suspension and Skipper Rory Sloane who missed the Showdown with injury also in the frame to return.

A famous victory might be just the tonic to kickstart the season after an underwhelming opening two rounds. Adelaide travel to take on Essendon on Sunday still searching for their first win of the season.

In a tight contest I will tip the home crowd advantage to just give the Bombers a narrow victory. My tip Essendon-7 points

Dawson puts Power up s—t creek

Port Adelaide Power yet again has conceded a handy three-quarter-time lead.

This time the latest choke was to arch-enemy Adelaide Crows in Showdown 51 courtesy of Sydney Sean's recruit Jordan Dawson.

Port sit winless at 0-3 and face undefeated reigning premiers Melbourne Demons in Adelaide on Thursday night.

Dawson's curling after-the-siren goal, after he took the free kick from Lachlan Murphy, ripped the hearts from the Power players and supporters at Adelaide Oval on Friday night.

Murphy was crudely tackled head-high by Sam Mayes and was unable to take the free.

Adelaide's best kicker Dawson took it and the rest is history to give the Crows its first win of the season amid euphoric scenes in and out of the Crows' coaches' box which was another classic entrenched into Showdown folklore.

Port Adelaide crumbled in the latter stages by firstly wasting goal-scoring chances when Travis Boak, brilliant all night, muffed a chance to ice the game from straight in front.

Earlier his experienced teammate Ollie Wines couldn't convert and Mayes, couldn't maximise in what could've been a five or six-goal evening for him.

Adelaide's Elliott Himmelberg (four goals) did what they could not and that's kick big goals in key moments.

His opposing number Todd Marshall finally showed the Power faithful what he's capable of with a game-high five goals.

The now under-siege Port coach Ken Hinkley said his team was "better" than last week's meek showing against another side full of kids, Hawthorn.

"Some stuff was better, still not super, but it was better," Hinkley said.

"We're a better team than that and we expect to be a better team than that.

"You just keep working and that's all you can do, you stay in the now, you don't get too distracted, you work really hard."

There was another kid who pulled the Power's pants down.

He was Lachlan Gollant.

He flew for marks and was a physical presence despite his still light frame.

Gollant's Jack Gunstan-like shots on goal yielded him four goals.

There are rumblings down at Alberton and Port's reserves, the Magpies, were smashed by 10 goals in the curtain raiser against Adelaide.

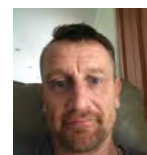

Hinkley said the outside noise won't distract his team from what has to be an "in the moment" mindset.

"Absolutely you believe in that, but we understand it gets challenging," Hinkley said.

"We just don't look too far. That's a long way to look isn't it?"

"We've just got to stay here and look right now how we get to win number one, don't worry about win number two, three or four or however many it might take, let's get to win number one as quick as we possibly can."

But it's likely to be way too late.

Interesting game of Friday night footy coming up

Both teams got caught on the hop after half time in Round 1, conceding a small but telling bag of goals to their opponents, clubs who in fairness have more to prove than most from the hangover of 2021

Having missed Round 1 for a National Beach Volleyball tour in the Gold Coast, I had no choice but to catch up on some raw punter's thoughts from club Facebook pages.

The concensus for the Eagles was that the new-look team needed time to gel on-field.

I'm not privy to how well preseasons went, but it was the Rooster's Christmas player exodus that had many asking what the heck was going on at Prospect Oval post-season.

Round 1's result was proof that, as always, the four walls of a footy club are a little thicker than at first glance. This is a fantastic start for a North Adelaide who had a bitter end to last season.

The sympathetic punters are right – Woodville-West has time to settle. Season 2021 was Glenelg's to lose, as we might recall, and lose it they did to the mighty Eagles, now nesting on back-to-back state league footy championships.

Woodville-West Torrens were the early bird of 2020 but the second mouse of 2021. They would be watching two of their star exports light up the AFL for two Victorian teams with pride, and still a twinge of sadness; two debutants have just come in.

Everyone at the club, and the (mostly) partisan folk at the sportscentre factory, forever up for a yarn, would all be very keen for a third premiership to hit the market.

The Redlegs fielded seven debutants, and had themselves just a bit more of an arm-wrestle with last year's minor premiers than other Round 1 results.

They were there-or-there-about for a long time in 2021, without ever challenging for premiership consciousness, though it was a tough ask last year amongst two cats and an eagle.

Friday night footy at home in Norwood's as good a place as any to kickstart their season. I went to a SANFLW game last year, a dewy and dour affair that was, and will always be, a well-contested Ellen Maple tribute match.

Both men's teams kicked just the 9 goals for Round 1, and in the Eagles case, a single Menzel kicked two-thirds of 'em.

I've watched three seasons now where the small forwards get off the chain for the first three or four rounds before the loose balls are clamped down and the tall forwards make their mark.

I suspect it will happen again, but it's of course in Norwood's best interest to put a stop to it, because the Eagles were the one team that bucked the trend – their goals came from everywhere, all season.

Round 2 and it's tagging time already baby.

On a personal note:

I'm about to hang up the kneepads on a 15-year volleyball career, and potentially strap on the boots for the Unley Jets.

I went to Canada for a College Volleyball scholarship and was simultaneously their first overseas pro, and their lowest vertical jumper in the squad.

However, these gangly arms reach 100 inches standing so there's no doubt I'll be placed in the ruck.

I need to keep pretending I'm watching the games until someone buys me the $90 digital pass (up $40 from last year) so I can catch up on the state leagues.

It will be good to finally see it with one ear (read: both arms pinned) to the turf.

I'm a Norwood Parade baby so I do wish for the Redlegs to win, but I see this week as the week the Eagles get rolling on their threepat; and not a week too soon.

Eagles by 1-10.

Bulldogs to Bite back

How good is it to have SANFL footy back for another season? We have a really intriguing match up in round 2 with the bulldogs taking on the Bloods

Despite both teams suffering a loss in round one, the bulldogs in particular pushed the Panthers at Noarlunga all the way and feel only 5 points short. The bloods had a tough encounter with Sturt.

Despite Sturt having 27 scoring shots to 14, there were some positives for the bloods, including Lachlan Squire booting 3 goals and Hamish Ellem kicking 2.

The Bloods are continuing with their rebuild and will have games that do blow out. The raw numbers will tell you that Sturt dominated from start to finish and the bloods have a lot of work to do to be competitive for four quarters.

Paul Thomas will be very happy with his team's performance despite the five-point loss. Competitiveness is really important and the Bulldogs have started the new season demonstrating they can mix with the better teams.

The Bulldogs third quarter was impressive scoring four goals straight to the Panthers 1goal 2 behinds to trail by only six points at the final change.

Add to this the four multiple goal kickers who kicked an accurate 8.2 between them.

Travis Schiller started round one with 30 disposals and 8 tackles, a great start and leading by example for his team mates.

Former Crow now Blood Jordan Boyle finished with 23 possessions and 7 rebound 50's. Lachlan Squire committed himself impressively also with 22 disposals and 6 clearances and 3 goals.

Brad Gotch will be hoping both Boyle and Squire will be reliably assisted by their team mates this weekend as playing the Bulldogs at X Convenience Oval is never easy.

Both these sides met twice last year, the Bloods won the round 5 contest by 24 points and in Round 11, the Bulldogs took the points with an 18-point victory.

Based on round one form, the Bulldogs with start warm favourites and at Elizabeth, the Bulldogs should win comfortably.

MY TIP: Bulldogs by 25-36 points

North Adelaide to continue hot start with win over Adelaide

Footy season is back! And with that the SANFL season is back for the 2022 season. One of the more intriguing match ups for this week is the game between North Adelaide and Adelaide. Both sides are coming off strong round 1 performance and will be looking to go 2-0 to start the season. North Adelaide beat reigning premiers Woodville-West Torrens while Adelaide smashed Port Adelaide.

by
Oliver Alyanak

North Adelaide beat last year's premiers, the Eagles in a game that was tight for 3 of the 4 quarters. For much of the first 2 quarters North only lead by 1 or 2 goals, however, it was in the 3rd term where they really put the foot down and blew Woodville-West Torrens away. The Roosters kicked 5 unanswered goals within the first 10 minutes of the quarter which was enough to get them out to an unassailable 44-point lead. The Eagles steadied toward the back end of the quarter and in the 4th, however, the Roosters lead proved too much. North Adelaide was able to dominate the middle and win clearances which allowed them to go inside 50 more often than the Eagles which in the end proved too much pressure for the under-siege Eagles backline. Keenan Ramsey was the standout up forward for North, booting 6 goals while Dyson Hilder kicked 3 of his own. Aaron Young lead from the front in the midfield with 33 disposals and a goal while Harrison Wigg had 29 and a goal as well.

Adelaide, on the other hand, produced a fantastic display at Adelaide Oval against Port Adelaide in the AFL Showdown curtain raiser. Port may have gone into this game as favourites; however, Adelaide quickly shut that down and didn't let Port play the game on their terms at all. Adelaide was quick to get the game out to a 4-goal buffer and held that for most of the game until eventually running over the Magpies in the last quarter and running away with a 62-point victory. Adelaide had nearly double the inside 50s that Port did and ended up kicking 18 goals and 15 behinds so it quite easily could have been an even bigger margin had some of those shots gone in. Clearances were even throughout the match which shows how well and easily Adelaide were able to transition and repel any potential Port Adelaide attack. Matthew Wright turned back the clock as he booted 5 goals and had 10 marks. Much has been made about Riley Thilthorpe's omission from the senior team, however, he did his chances of a recall no harm booting 3 goals. Sam Berry was the standout, however, with 28 disposals, 12 tackles and a goal. Shane McAdam was good again with 3.2 and just about took mark of the year in the first game of the season.

Last year these two sides faced off twice, with North Adelaide winning both by over 40 points. Last time they met was in round 15 in 2021 and North got off to the best start possible, leading 28 to 1 at quarter time. This has been a trend between these two sides with North leading by over 3 goals at quarter time in the last 3 encounters. If Adelaide can start well, like they did against Port Adelaide then they are a good chance to win this game, however, if not you feel the Roosters will do what they did last year and run all over them.

North Adelaide by 25-36 points

Panthers To Produce Power Outage

In a battle of the poles, South Adelaide will travel to Alberton to take on a winless Port Adelaide. In the opening round, South Adelaide picked up where they left last season, achieving a 5-point win against Central Districts. Comparatively, Port did not. They were soundly defeated by 62 points against a quality Adelaide outfit. While round one suggested there is a disparity of quality between these two sides, history continues to speak otherwise and demonstrates that teams must not underestimate the Power.

by
William McShane

In round two, Port will be looking to avoid another dreadful start to the season. This would build from last year, where they won only one of the first four games. In round one, the Power was out. Port Adelaide coach, Matthew Lokan's side were beaten in all the key areas. They lost disposals, marks, clearances, scoring accuracy and inside 50's. The latter of which being most important, as they conceded 65 inside 50's, despite having 46 rebound 50's. The power was not able to transition the ball efficiently from the defensive 50 to the offensive 50. This was exacerbated by Adelaide's midfield dominance around the ground. Against South Adelaide, Port cannot afford to be as convincingly demolished in this part of the ground. Port will rely on their experienced players in that of Succliffe, Wilson and Appleton to be competitive with South Adelaide's established midfield. However, as a Power fan it is not all grim. Their loss against Adelaide provided learning opportunities to exciting first game prospects, Jase Burgoyne and Hugh Jackson, who have both been developing their craft at an under 18 level. Burgoyne looked at home, as he had the most disposals for the Power with 22, while Jackson looked dangerous up forward.

In contrast, South Adelaide will be looking to repeat a similar start to last season as they won their first 4 matches. After finishing 5th last season, the Panthers reached the preliminary final. They demonstrated their best football was superior to that of most sides. In round one, the Panthers proved too much for Centrals despite a late scare. At half-time South Adelaide had pushed to a 4-goal lead. This had dissipated to a one goal lead at the end of the third. During the game the Panther's pressure was unbelievable, as they won the tackle count by 16. They also controlled the play by taking crucial marks in contested situations. Port Adelaide will have to be play unbelievably well to match South's midfield superiority. Ruckman, Keegan Brooksby, decimated Centrals winning 41 hit outs, which allowed Magarey medallist, Bryce Gibbs, and his midfield cohort to roam free with 39 clearances. Gibbs finishing with 14. This complemented Jye Menzies debutant four goal performance. Menzies, a Tasmanian draft prospect, looked comfortable forward of the ball. Although the Panthers only narrowly won, they won the statistics battle. Yet, they did not win inside 50's. While they were able to score from clearances and rebound 50's, coach Jarrod Wright will want to rectify this prior to Saturdays upcoming match.

The last time these two sides met Port Adelaide were 13-point victors. Unfortunately, for Port fans the evidence suggests this was an anomalous win. As a result of the Power's inexperience and South Adelaide's strength across the ground, the Panthers come into the game as clear favourites. Further, due to South Adelaide's established midfield, Port will not be able to compete for four quarters.

South Adelaide by 36-48.

The Tigers to wag their tails against the Double Blues

The second-round opener will begin with what is sure to be a cracker of a football match with the reigning premiers, the Eagles, butting heads against the Redlegs under Coopers Stadium's lights on Friday night. However, Saturday's fixtures will prove to be excellent displays of football, and the Double Blues' clash against the Tigers at Wigan Oval on Saturday afternoon is destined to be a worthy opening round contest. Sturt have the fortunate privilege of the home-ground advantage, but Glenelg will outclass the Double Blues in front of the eyes of their faithful.

by William Clemente

For Sturt last season was definitely a season of ups and downs that eventually led to bitter disappointment as they missed out on a spot in the final series by two points, finishing in sixth position on the ladder. Inconsistency would be the succinct word that would describe their 2021 pursuit. However, they did show flashes of their quality by stringing together some important victories in the second half of the season which put them in contention for finals. When the tenth round of last season came along, they only achieved the two victories alongside seven losses, accompanied with the bye. The Double Blues were comfortably victorious in the opening round against the Bloods, something they failed to do last season. They are eager to commence the season with two consecutive victories, but it will prove to be difficult for them, and it will be an upset if they outplay the Tigers of Saturday afternoon.

The 2021 season for Glenelg was almost near perfect as they only fell to defeat in only three contests for the entirety of the season; however, they didn't showcase their victorious instinct when it mattered most. They finished as minor premiers by a long margin, sitting comfortably at the top of the table and the eventual premiers, the Eagles trailed them by eight points. They only suffered one defeat to Port Adelaide in the final round which was not their finest display of football.

As previously mentioned, Sturt defeated the Bloods by a comfortable 39 points in round one away from home at Hisense Stadium. It was a fine display of team football as they had several players impacting the scoreboard. James Richards, Abe Davis, Oliver Grivell and James Matthews all slotted two kicks through the big sticks. It was a dominant performance by Sturt as they led from start to finish fairly uncontested as they led the Bloods by six goals at half time. Casey Voss, was the prime instigator in their dominance, notching 31 disposals and grabbing an astonishing 17 marks.

Glenelg's 2021 season finished in the highest form of disappointment, getting walloped in the Grand Final by 67 points by the hands of the Eagles. However, they carried their sublime home and away season form to the opening round, defeating the Redlegs by 15 points at the ACH Group Stadium. It was a tight contest for the game's entirety, but the Tigers led the entire game with the Redlegs constantly on their tails. However, Glenelg were the superior side in the second half, cruising to victory. Liam McBean (three goals) was their biggest contributor to the scoreboard. Midfielder, Brett Turner (27 disposals) was their greatest ball winner in the midfield with eight clearances.

It is due to be a cracking contest at Wigan Oval on Saturday afternoon as both sides are eager to continue their early season form in hope of a prosperous season. The Tigers will be aiming for another premiership crack, and the Double Blues are desiring a finals appearance. Each team's hunger will make for an exciting game of football. The Tigers to claw out the Double Blues.

Glenelg 21-32 points
