Back on the winners list

Adelaide has returned to the winners list after an impressive victory over Richmond at Adelaide Oval.

The Tigers kicked the first two goals of the contest before Adelaide responded with four of the next five to take a six-point lead into the quarter time break with Taylor Walker booting three majors.

The margin was stretched to 19 points at half-time before a remarkable third term saw each side boot four goals.

The Tigers scored four goals in a blistering eight-minute period to hit the front before the Crows steadied with the last three goals of the term to go into the last term with a 14-point advantage.

The Tigers challenged again in the last term, but Adelaide was not to be denied picking up their second win of the season by 19 points.

Taylor Walker and Elliot Himmelberg combined for nine goals, Ben Keays and Brodie Smith got plenty of the ball in midfield while the defence was superbly led by potential skipper in waiting, Tom Doedee.

The Adelaide defence as a collective did a great job to restrict Jack Riewoldt and Tom Lynch to a combined four goals.

One player who deserves a shoutout is the much-maligned Billy Frampton. The former Port Adelaide player played an important role taking nine marks and gathering 22 disposals, his best return at AFL level.

The win was soured by the ACL injury to Rory Sloane with scans confirming the Skipper will miss the remainder of the season, but the inspirational leader is determined to return next year.

“For me at 32 doing a knee is not ideal but it’s a great challenge to come back fitter and healthier, it’s a little reset on the body for me to go again”.

The Crows travel to Ballarat to take on the Western Bulldogs on Saturday afternoon. I will tip the Bulldogs just with the game being in Victoria but expect the Crows to attack the contest with plenty of confidence.

Second half surge just a tease for Port Faithful

by
Nick Kossatch

At 0-4, one would think that the Port Adelaide Football Club's AFL team would produce some fight and counter-attack against resurgent Carlton Blues at the MCG on a sunny Easter Sunday. It was exactly the opposite, in the first half anyway, as the Blues romped to a 50-point half-time lead courtesy of the brilliance of midfielder Sam Walsh and the 'Royal Blue Duo' of Harry McKay and Charlie Curnow who both combined for a match-winning eight goals. What was to occur in the final hour was beyond imagination as Port Adelaide rallied and added youngsters, albeit in their 50-plus AFL games, Connor Rozee and Zak Butters inside the centre square.

Carlton held on to win a classic clash by three points 14.10 (94) to 13.13 (91). Veteran Robbie Gray slotted a goal to give the Power more than a chance of daylight robbery before Curnow marked against returning but out-of-sorts Aliir Aliir for his fifth major. Port's Mitch Georgiades, a shining light as a lead-up forward throughout the game, curled home to get the Power again within a kick. After one final flurry with an unrealistic attempt at goal by Karl Amon, big beacon McKay clunked a Sam Docherty kick after a Port behind and it was game over. Port Adelaide coach Ken Hinkley believes his team may have turned the corner despite a limp first half.

"I'm going to continue to believe that and I'm going to continue to work towards that," Hinkley said. "It's enormously challenging, there's no doubt about that, but I'm not going to give up and the team won't give up. "We'll keep to task and we'll keep going and you never know, we might get on a (winning) run just as big." The Power are at Adelaide Oval to take on fellow strugglers but nemesis all the same West Coast Eagles on Saturday in a twilight match.

Here is my take of the game:

Positives:

How awesome was Zak Butters in the middle in second half. He's all class and makes things happen by 'left-of-the-middle' creativeness. He could be and should be Port's version of Sam Walsh who is probably now the best player in the AFL. Mitch Georgiades' game was terrific as a target lead-up forward. He's getting better and better. Connor Rozee stepped up big time in second half but he had many mates. All class when he's on song. Let's hope this effort is a stepping stone. Ryan Burton and Dan Houston both terrific. Halfback / mids add a different dimension to Port's midfield. Thought Jackson Mead and Sam Hayes showed a bit. The latter won some big taps late against Marc Pittonet. Sam just needs to develop a bigger engine. Sam Powell-Pepper. All heart and he's starting to show poise when he gets the ball. Would love him to play the Dusty Martin; Jordon De Goey mid-forward role. Evergreen champions Robbie Gray and Travis Boak terrific. Hope something can be salvaged this year to send them off in their likely final year in 2023. Jeremy Finlayson. Showed a fair bit and could've had a couple more marks if not for 'rubber chest' moments. Would love him to impose himself more like his old teammate Jeremy Cameron does at Geelong.

Negatives:

No intent or purpose in the first half. And showing more poise when with the ball in dying stages of the game that should have put Port in a position of actually nailing the win.

Crows to Fly High

How good was it to have 5 great SANFL games on Good Friday? Both the Bulldogs and Crows were involved in entertaining matches in round 3. Despite both sides losing, they were in winning positions and simply beaten by better sides on the day.

The dogs started well against North Adelaide and were in front at quarter time. As the teams ran back out for the second half, it was the Roosters by only 13 points and it was still anybody's game.

Unfortunately for the Bulldogs, it was 8 goals to 3 goals after the main break which in the end, was a comfortable 43-point win for the Roosters.

Despite the loss, Kyle Prestbury was running hot with 35 disposals and Rhett Montgomerie hauled in 12 marks.

Both Fraser Fort and Justin Hoskin were the multiple goal kickers for the bulldogs. An area Paul Thomas will want to address is his teams' total shots on goal. In round 2 they managed 28 scoring shots against only 17 in round 3. This must be a concern as the bulldogs face a real premiership challenger in Adelaide this week.

The Crows came up against Glenelg, and at half time, the game looked over. The Crows were 40 points up and on fire. Riley Thilthorpe had 3 goals, Tarek Newchurch had 2 goals against there name and they were all smiles at the main break.

It is like the Crows and Tigers players swapped jumpers at half time. In the next 30 minutes of football, Glenelg were in front scoring 10 unanswered goals to none in the third quarter.

It was a remarkable performance from Glenelg, and for Adelaide, they will be determined to return to the winners list and keep pace with the ladder leaders.

Whilst Thilthorpe and Newchurch were in strong goal kicking form, SANFL captain Matthew Wright is only one goal away from being the early leader in the Ken Farmer Medal race. Despite the loss, early season suggests to Crows will be too strong. They have to many experienced players in the SANFL as they only have 2 injuries in their AFL side (Seedsman & Sloane). The Crows will bounce back.

MY TIP: Adelaide by 25-36 points

East v West

Leave of absence last week. Back this week!

This'll be the first match of SANFL history in Port Lincoln, on the Eyre peninsula, a good 8 hour's drive from Adelaide.

by
Nick Blewett

The only twenty points The Bloods conceded unanswered last week against the Eagles were from the opening bounce.

West Adelaide have won twenty (one) games since their 2015 premiership, none at their nearest neighbour Woodville, their 85th loss handed to them in that time.

The commentators dobed them in on the third weekend of 2022.

"Bad kicking is bad footy."

In their defense, they were effective kicks insofar as they were efficient – not at all.

The reigning premiers got it done around the ground with far fewer, far more precise kicks, but of course they did.

They went out wide, cut straight back in, and hit a target on the chest inside fifty, without fuss.

West Adelaide were caught zig-zagging across half back, across the centre, and on their way across inside 50.

When they made it through the Eagle's defence, the Bloods missed some bloody easy set shots.

That's what pressure does. If they desperately need a release, they won't find one in a team that lost to the Eagles by only a whisker last fortnight.

They will however find a release on their travels to the Eyre Peninsula.

What's West of West Adelaide is the Duke of Yorke's, across St Vincent's Gulf, into Spencer's Gulf, and onto Lincoln's Port.

If you harbored any doubts that we're a British colony, read over those names once more.

As soon as you pass through Port Augusta by car, you're on Barngarla country; as far as the eye can see.

This will be of course the first SANFL match on this part of country, and it is within the league's power (and presumably, their pre-match protocol) to acknowledge as such.

Better still would be a welcome to country, performed by an active, living ancestor of lands, seemingly more important, and more sacred, than some settlers chasing leather across an oval.

However, should you believe the rumor from a systematically erased history, the game was stolen too; a ballgame barefoot in the dirt*, now's a bums-on-seats marquee event for a quaint Sunday afternoon.

SANFL were proud as punch for restarting the APY league when I got there for uni placement a while back, and so they should be. *This tradition is alive and well.

It would be a mistake not to let family out West know that SANFL's coming to town.

Norwood should win it, by 10-20, though I would be quite happy to be proven wrong.

SANFL

South Adelaide

Prospect Oval - 11.40pm (Saturday)

North beat South in a thriller at Prospect

Round 4 of the SANFL season kicks off with a good old fashioned battle between North and South at Prospect Oval. Both sides come into this one with 2 wins, however, differing outcomes from round 3. North Adelaide recorded a big win at home against Central District while the Panthers struggled against Sturt, going down by three goals. This game shapes as a massive opportunity for both teams to cement themselves in the top 5 early in the season with a 3-1 record.

by
Oliver Alyanak

North Adelaide bounced back after a poor showing against Adelaide in round 2 with a 43-point victory over Centrals. The Bulldogs got off to a good start, leading by 20 points at the first break, however, the Roosters inaccuracy was the only thing costing them, kicking 1.6. Centrals kept it relatively close up until halfway through the 3rd quarter where North kicked away for good. North lead most of the key statistical categories, however, not by as much as you would expect for such a one-sided final scoreline. This shows how much the Bulldogs were in the game for much of it and if not for North's late firepower it really could have been a nail biter. You could throw a blanket over a couple of guys for best on ground with Harrison Wigg (34 disposals, 1 goal and 15 marks) and Aaron Young (37 disposals, 1 goal and 11 clearances being the standouts. Jacob Bauer was great up forward kicking 5 goals, with 4 of them coming late in the game while North was trying to power home their advantage.

South Adelaide on the other hand, went down by 18 points at the hands of the Double Blues in round 3. The Panthers got off to a horror start, going goalless in the first quarter and at half time only having 1 goal and 9 behinds on the scoreboard. Credit it to them, they managed to wrestle their way back and save some percentage, however, the game was already over by halftime. I said last week in the preview for this game that if South Adelaide can continue their great form in front of goal, they should win this game. Well, that clearly wasn't the case as they had more scoring shots but went down, the complete opposite to how all of their other games have gone this season. The most damning stat of all, however, is the inside 50s. The Panthers had 20 more inside 50s and still couldn't manage to kick a winning score which they won't be impressed with. Mitch O'Neill was everywhere with 38 disposals while Fraser Turner also had plenty of it with 31. Hayden Sampson was the only multiple goal kicker for South Adelaide kicking 2 with plenty of others chipping in with 1.

Last time these 2 sides played was in last year's finals with South Adelaide winning by 43 points. Three weeks prior to that though, North Adelaide won by 58 points so expect another high scoring affair. In that finals game, South Adelaide lead from start to finish and never really looked like giving up their lead. Campbell Combe and Harrison Wigg were massive for North with both recording over 20 disposals and over 10 tackles. Bryce Gibbs had 29 disposals while Liam Fitt kicked 4 goals. In potentially an upset I expect North Adelaide to win this upcoming game. Both sides come into it with very similar form so it really could go either way.

North Adelaide by 1-12 points

Tigers To Taste Sweet Revenge

Anzac Day is poised for a salivating contest between the two grand finalists from last year. Last year's grand final saw the Eagles win back-to-back flags, after they beat an almost undefeated Tigers outfit. Glenelg will be searching for vengeance, while Woodville will look to assert their dominance over Glenelg, as they have won four of their last six clashes against the Tigers. In season 2022, Glenelg have continued their stellar form, winning three straight games. Comparatively, the Eagles have a record of 2-1, following their upset defeat against North Adelaide in Round 1. This grand final replay is poised for one of the most exciting matches of the year.

by William McShane

Glenelg have been impressive this season demonstrating they will once again be one of the top contenders for the Premiership. In last weeks clash against Adelaide, Glenelg were 15-point victors, after trailing by 37 points at half-time. Early in the match, the Crows dominated possession and were effective with their ball use. This dissipated in the second half, due to Glenelg's pressure and control. Although the Tigers were smashed around the ball, they gradually were able to break even with the opposition losing clearances by only 3. Glenelg had 42 more marks, which enabled them to control the football and drive the ball forward in a coordinated manner. They were also able to spread effectively, winning outside ball. This was reflected through Glenelg's disposals, as they had 81 more than their opposition. This style of play has been a facet of the Tigers game, as they have managed over 80 marks in all three games. However, coach Brett Hand will be concerned with Glenelg's loss in the fundamental statistics. In the first three rounds, Glenelg have not won rebound 50's, nor have they won clearances in two out of three games. As a result, the biggest winning margin Glenelg has had is 15. Nevertheless, through Glenelg's experience in player leadership with the likes of Hosie, Partington, Snook and Turner, they typically find a way to win. This ability to find a way to win despite not necessarily playing their greatest style of football, is a characteristic of all great sides.

The Eagles lost in an upset Round 1. This has been an aberration to their season as they have won their two other matches. In last weeks victory against West Adelaide, they lost all the key statistics, but inside 50's and goals. Further, rebound 50's and inside 50's are the only two statistics Woodville have won in the past two weeks. Like Glenelg, these are signals of a quality side, when a team can be defeated around the contest yet win the game. This is largely attributed to the Eagle's stalwart players such as Menzel, Knight and Thompson, who can win the crucial moments in a game. Nonetheless, the statistics battle will be of great concern to coach, Jade Sheedy. When the Eagles won the premiership last season, they controlled the game by winning the two fundamental statistics... clearances and inside 50's. In the Eagles respective Semi and Grand final wins against Glenelg, they won these areas. Therefore, if they are to pose a threat to the arguably more in-form Tigers outfit, they will need to rectify such areas.

Overall, neither side is approaching the match in terrific form. While, both teams are strong sides, due to their reliance on their star players, neither side has been able to gain control of the key areas which win games. If Glenelg can restrict the Eagles inside 50's, by limiting their clearances, they will win. Conversely, if the Eagles prevent Glenelg from freely marking the ball around the ground and mitigate their overall ball movement, they will win. All signs indicate this will be a close game. It is very rare there is a poor game on Anzac Day. Therefore, everyone should be enthusiastic for such an excitable match.

Glenelg by 1-12.

The Double Blues to overrun The Power

Port Adelaide will host Sturt at Alberton Oval on Sunday afternoon in the fourth round of the SANFL season. It is anticipated to be an intriguing contest that is destined to display quality football, and The Double Blues are expected to continue basking in their early-season form and defeat Port Adelaide on their home turf.

by William Clemente

It is still the very early stages of the season, thus is too premature to determine who would be this season's front runners; however, The Double Blues so far are emerging as one of the competition's top seeds. They have commenced the season in ideal fashion achieving a convincing victory against the now struggling West Adelaide. The second round definitely posed as a significant challenge and pace detector for Sturt's season ahead, clashing against arguably the competition's outfit of the highest quality, Glenelg. Even though they suffered a narrow defeat, they displayed some quality football and might, hence they bounced back last round, clinching a hard-fought win.

The early season has not treated Port Adelaide too kindly as they have failed to register a win, equivalent to their AFL counterpart. Alongside The Bloods, The Power are the only side who haven't recorded any points on the table, thus they would be eager, in fact desperate to bring their best football to Alberton in front of their faithful, pull off an upset, open up the sail flaps and get their season underway. The first round was a nightmare for Port Adelaide when they faced off against The Crows in the SANFL Showdown, suffering a walloping of 62 points. They bounced back in the second round against a quality South Adelaide, displaying rhythms of their sublime play, but they were slimly defeated. A solid performance against The Panthers, playing an admirable loss provided Power enthusiasts a glimpse of hope against Norwood at Coopers Stadium, but unfortunately again suffered the same fate.

After suffering a winding defeat to an impressive Glenelg in round two, Sturt bounced back, showing their quality and persistence, defeating an undefeated and high-flying South Adelaide away from home at Flinders University Stadium. In a three-goal victory, The Double Blues lead for the entirety of the match, leading by seven goals at half time. But The Panthers clawed back and kept Sturt at arm's length; however, Sturt matched their intensity and ran away with a comfortable victory. Sturt forwards, James Richards (three goals, one behind), and Oliver Grivell (three goals) were their greatest contributors to the scoreboard but were also supported by Patrick Wilson and Daniel Fahey-Sparks who slotted two goals each. Tom Lewis (24 disposals) was their greatest ball winner.

After surpassing the Redlegs in the early stages of the contest, Port Adelaide were surpassed and didn't manage to maintain a degree of intensity to challenge them as Norwood were comfortably victorious by 14-points. In a discouraging loss there were glimmers of hope as Dylan Williams paraded the forward line, slotting three kicks through the big sticks. Young new recruit, Jase Burgoyne played an admirable game, notching 20 disposals and kicking a goal.

Sunday afternoon will prove to be a game of football that is worth a watch for all football purists. Port Adelaide are a struggling side still trying to find their feet and ground themselves into the season; they're eager to win and impress their home crowd. Sturt are playing sublimely and want to continue basking in this form and they are destined to achieve their goal.
